

THE REALITY:

Your organization can't be agile if your people aren't agile.

Email overload

< 5%

The email response rate when employees receive over 100 emails a day¹

The smartphone effect

83%

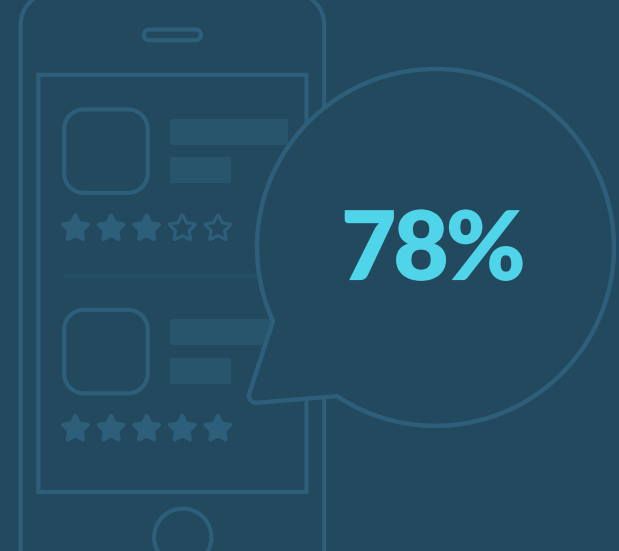

Workers impatient with anything slower than texting or not having video/voice communications access when remote²

The power of texting

90%

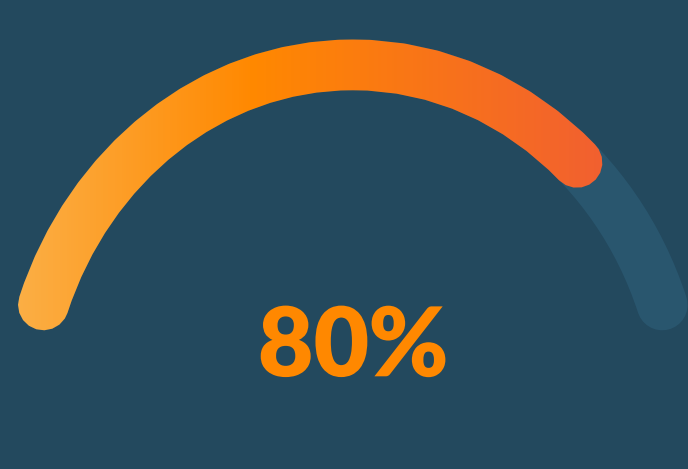

The amount of texts that are read within the first 3 seconds³

The technology your team wants

Millennials who become more productive when they use their preferred technology⁴

The necessity of team messaging

Respondents who said team messaging tools are helping with productivity and work efficiency⁵

TEAM MESSAGING AND COLLABORATION:

What can it offer?

- Integrated phone system
- Group and individual chat
- Video meetings and screen sharing

- Unlimited file sharing and storage
- Task management
- Integrations with other apps

GET AHEAD:

Beat your team to the finish line.

Employees are going rogue and downloading apps on their own, otherwise known as stealth IT. Beat them to it by providing the tools they want, or deal with:

- Increased risk of hacking and non-compliance
- No single vendor = rise in complexity
- Siloed teams that limit collaboration
- IT having no cost control
- Lack of phone system and video conferencing integration
- Inability to sync with company phone directory
